character.

Tradition

An A.A. group ought never endorse, finance or lend the A.A. name to any related facility or outside enterprise. lest problems of money, property and prestige divert us from our primary purpose.

Concept

The Conference recognizes that the

Step Six: Defects and Short Comings

A lot of Credibility Leads to Integrity

By Rick R.

Sometimes the wording used in The Big Book and in The Twelve Steps and Twelve Traditions mean something different to individuals often based on how they evolved with respect to Religion, Agnosticism, Atheism and other developmental histories. This may be confusing to many of us, especially Step Six in the 12X12 as it talks of God removing these defects of character the way God removed the obsession to drink. In simple terms I try to word the Step Six process in a way anyone can understand it and my goal is not to offend anyone by being over simplistic but just about all of our actions and behaviors stem from our thinking and if our thinking is of a fearful nature, we are bound to make bad decisions in an effort to defend ourselves. The defects we identify in the step four inventory, disclose in step five and address in step six, are byproducts of our fears and insecurities and are of a spiritual nature as in our inner self. The shortcomings we address in step seven are of a material nature (actions and behaviors) that result from those fears and insecurities. If, in the program, we discover a defect of character and address it properly the short coming diminishes and becomes irrelevant. A simpler way I try to describe this process is as follows: Suppose you purchased a new car and drove off the lot and as you reached the first stop sign you hit the brakes, the car slowed down but did not stop as it should and drifted out into the intersection. You then returned to the car lot and explained what happened, they checked it out and discovered that the wrong brakes were installed at the factory. They agreed to correct the mistake. This time when you drove away and approached the stop sign the car stopped as it was supposed to, and it also stopped at every other stop sign or red light. Once the defect was identified and corrected, the short coming went away. I look at defects as the unseen part of our makeup such as: thoughts, motives, fears, feelings, ego, conscience, and so on. I look at shortcomings as the results of those inner thoughts and feelings such as: gossip, lying, verbal abuse, cheating, theft, neglect, and so on. In step four we identified our defects of character (fear and Insecurity) and in step five we owned and exposed them. In Step Six and Seven we start to replace our selfish and shameful thoughts and motives with unselfish habits and deeds. There's no need to overcomplicate the process. As we begin to stay on the unselfish side of the behavioral ledger, we begin to establish a new track record and if all our motives are of an unselfish spirit, we start to establish some credibility, which, in time, leads to integrity. If individuals employ the dynamics, I described in Step Six and Seven, he/she will be a different person, in Spirit, when they reach the ninth step and it will make it much easier to make amends backed up by a mountain of integrity. The steps of the program are numbered in order, for a reason and if a person is struggling with one of these steps it might be wise to backup and be sure that they didn't skimp on an earlier step or leave out something important. If an Alcoholic has a desire to live a happy and useful life, the steps of the program are a pathway to achieve that goal provided they stick with the plan. Not everything will go our way in the beginning but, if we persist, in time things will go exceptionally well. In the words of Preacher Roe: "Sometimes you eat the Bear, Sometimes the Bear eats you". I say, "Perseverance will always eat the Bear"!

PRODUCT RELEASE
AAGRAPEVINE ANNOUNCES
"Take Me to Your Sponsor"

April 24th, 2019 New York, NY AAGRAPEVINE, the international monthly journal of Alcoholics Anonymous, has begun the sale of the "Take Me to Your Sponsor", an anthology of jokes and cartoons from Grapevine's collection.

Sobriety can be tough sometimes, which is why recovering alcoholics can always use a good laugh. In AA, members learn to not take themselves too seriously, to be happy, joyous and free. Luckily, sobriety can be pretty darn amusing. Two of the most beloved departments of Grapevine are the "At Wit's End" jokes and the cartoons, all contributed and drawn by AA members. This book contains some of the best laughs of the last few years, dealing with meetings, sponsorship, dating and marriage, friends and coworkers, character defects and more. We hope this book brightens your day and gives you some hearty, well-earned laughs.
